

MANDY GUIDI

Amanda is Scottish/Italian and comes from Glasgow, Scotland.

She trained at London school of Musical Theatre and The London Studio Center.

Graduating in 2004, Amanda has spent 20 years performing, choreographing and teaching across the globe.

Her career has spanned over various genres and production types. As a teacher, Amanda has had the privilege of teaching in some of the best dance educational institutes. Her former position as Head of Dance at the MGA academy Edinburgh, lead her to then take the role of Foundation Course Co-ordinator and Senior Lecturer in Dance at Urdang Academy London. She then went onto the Head of Dance at the Institute of the Arts Barcelona.

With her forte in Jazz dance, she now teaches freelance Jazz Technique, Musical Theatre, Tap, Commercial, Conditioning, Partner work and Audition Technique.

She is a frequent adjudicator for many prestigious dance competitions and she is also the current European vendor for Carnival Cruise Line where she helps with their recruiting and auditioning process for their Entertainment department.